

Bioregional Gathering Workshop and Festival EVENT of VITALITY

This is to be an active expression of solutions discussion...

getting everyone organized to bring it on eventual civilization overhaul

We can be no more plain than that expressive acronym with a built in theme, as the bare gist of our chosen life mission!

And you are invited to grow (y)our concepts... and revitalize our cultures and strengthen relations with and as First Nations.

The times they are a changing, the System rapidly aging and politicians are mired in this system that absolutely refuses to help save the Biota with us. Absolute refusal.

A situation that is global. And brutal.

Over the next few months we here at transitions, through networks of phone-trees and limited email, will be assembling most of the pieces to accomplish a tremendously fulfilling and effective creative skill-share and action planning long weekend. It will be hosted here in Clinton during late spring in June before regular festival season begins, rooms may be rented, tents will be pitched, food will be prepared, great fun will be imbibed and all those participating will be imbued with wondrous intent to satiate our hopes.

---

This is a callout for experience in Bioregional theory and action or interest of the dire need to come together along this path, those with knowledge for relative workshops rather than panel talks, skill-sharing rather than mere demonstrations, gardeners and farmers and justice activists! with seeds to swap and produce to trade and tools and ideas and definitely no politician-speak.

June 18 19 20 2010

-with a thursday prep day and a monday cleanup-we encourage everyone who plans to attend to also plan to bring a 'someone of trust and merit' who may not necessarily bother attending such a happening.

fallsintheforest@letterboxes.org to begin plottplanning

An RSVP will help us better prepare.

Bring that friend, bring a drum, an offering for the kitchen, bring positive action